the comforting alternative

www.naturallegacy.co.uk

Natural Legacy is the beautiful and comforting alternative to a traditional coffin or casket, the lovingly woven outer layer combined with the natural organic interior gives an overall feeling evocative of a Moses basket and a gentler goodbye.

Made using British wool, Natural Legacy's none traditional shape combined with the soft stroke-able finish allow a less "final" experience for those left behind and can be particularly comforting to sensitive members of a congregation.

All the materials in the coffins and ash caskets are readily biodegradable and suitable for cremation and all types of burial.

Natural Legacy products are hand constructed on the same premises that has produced the outer woollen cloth for over 230 years. The woollen outer layer is carefully hand fitted around a strong recycled cardboard frame and delicately finished with natural and organic detail.

Each coffin interior is generously lined with organic cotton, attractively edged with jute and completed a soft padded mattress and a beautiful pure new wool blanket, while the exterior is finished with a simple blanket stitch detail, jute handles and simple wooden toggle fastenings.

The ash casket from Natural Legacy is soft and multifunctional, the ashes are contained within a secondary internal box, which can be removed for scattering or burying, leaving the tactile outer shell to be used as a memory box holding precious moments and treasures.

Both the coffin and ash casket are completed with a delicately stitched personalised nameplate which many families find consoling to save as a keepsake following the funeral.
